

Associate of Arts in Supply Chain Management

The Associate of Arts in Supply Chain Management will strengthen the student's understanding of supply chain management functions such as: transportation, reverse logistics, order processing, warehousing, and acquisitions management. The degree is specifically designed to help students identify logistics and supply chain roles and opportunities within different organizations. This associate degree will help students master the concepts and common nomenclature to engage in supply chain management dialogue.

Program Objectives

In addition to the institutional and degree level learning objectives, graduates of this program are expected to achieve these learning outcomes:

- Describe the basic principles of supply chain management.
- Demonstrate skills in transportation, logistics, reverse logistics, and acquisitions management.
- Learn how to solve and supply chain problems through case study scenarios.
- Model strong analytical and problem-solving skills.
